EMPLOYMENT

March 2009 - Present

Freelance

Freelance Web Designer under the name Pixelify. I create custom web sites that are usable and accessible, making a preliminary analysis of the requirements with the client, and planning the web site (wireframe). Also custom themes for Wordpress and newsletter design.

Temporarily, I will accept sporadically projects that include programming (php/mysql) or Flash.

February 2006 - February 2009

DB Target E.I.R.L.

Project Manager/Analyst/Senior Web Designer for an outsourcing company. Responsible of time management and deliverables from the team I was monitoring and guiding. I was in touch directly to the client assigned and kept a closed relationship of trust, gathered requirements and designed user-friendly web applications/web sites following standards. Also in the last two months I taught XHTML/CSS to the team of programmers inside the company.

Freelance works were done in my spare time, but they were not so often, almost none.

September 2004 - January 2006

Freelance

Web Designer/Developer. In this phase I adquired valuable knowledge while working projects with a variety of clients from Peru and USA.
